ROYALTY PORTFOLIO DEVELOPMENTS

Cultivation Technologies Inc.

On September 12, 2017, FinCanna's first investee, Cultivation Technologies Inc. ("CTI"), began operations in Coachella, California with one of the state's first permitted solvent extraction facilities for medical cannabis. The lab was established as an interim facility in accordance with CTI's conditional land use permit in Coachella, to remain in operation during the construction of the full 6-acre medical cannabis campus planned for the site.

On October 25, 2017 FinCanna agreed to amend the agreement with CTI. In exchange for FinCanna agreeing to extend certain dates, subject to certain limitations, the amended agreement with CTI provided FinCanna with a 50% share of the profit from CTI's interim medical cannabis extraction facility. The share in profits will provide FinCanna with a source of monthly revenue before construction of CTI's Coachella Campus.

On January 15, 2018, FinCanna reported that CTI now had the rights to 100% of the production capacity of its interim extraction facility. The new operating structure is expected to result in significant economic opportunities to CTI, as it now has the ability to add an additional extraction machine and fractional distillation and winterization equipment. This added working capital will create additional capacity for CTI to process up to 6,000 pounds of biomass per month and the ability to service third party vaporizer, winterization and distillation customers at a scale of approximately 100,000 grams of finished product weekly.

FinCanna also announced amendments to its funding agreement with CTI to provide for certain changes to the terms of FinCanna's investment that, among other things, entitles FinCanna to an increased royalty of 14% of revenue (previously 10%), an increase in the annual interest rate on the loan from 10% to 20% and 7% of CTI's revenues to be paid to FinCanna and applied against interest and principal on the loan.

On January 24, 2018, FinCanna reported that CTI had secured an additional five megawatts of power from the local utility company, Imperial Irrigation District ("IIF"). This increased CTI's total available power to seven megawatts, the largest power commitment in the Coachella Cannabis Zone from IID, and provides CTI with the requisite power for construction and operation of the planned Coachella Campus.

- IFRS 16, Leases: New standard to establish principles for recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of leases with an impact on lessee accounting, effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019. The Company is assessing the impact of this standard.

Financial Instruments

Fair value

Financial instruments measured at fair value are classified into one of three levels in the fair value hierarchy according to the relative reliability of the inputs used to estimate the fair values. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are:

- Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 – Inputs that are not based on observable market data.

Cash is carried at fair value using a Level 1 fair value measurement. The recorded values of subscriptions receivable, GST receivable and accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their carrying values due to their short-term to maturities which is the amount presented on the statements of financial position. The carrying value of the loan also approximates its fair value as the loan bears a market rate of interests.

Financial risk factors

The Company's risk exposures and the impact on the Company's financial statements are summarized below.

Credit risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to a significant concentration of credit risk consist primarily of cash, GST receivable, Investment in Profit Sharing Arrangement, and loan. The Company limits its exposure to credit loss by placing its cash with major financial institutions. The Company believes its credit risk with respect to GST receivable which is due from the Government of Canada, is minimal. The Company's credit risk with respect to the Investment in Profit Sharing Arrangement, and loan, is equal to its carrying value.

Liquidity risk

The Company's approach to managing liquidity risk is to ensure that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet liabilities when due. As at January 31, 2018, the Company had a working capital balance of $3,638,259 and requires additional debt or equity financing to meet its obligations in connection with the loan.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk of loss that may arise from changes in market factors such as interest rates, foreign exchange rates, and price risk.

a) Interest rate risk

The Company is exposed to interest rate risk to the extent that the cash maintained at the financial institution is subject to floating rates of interest. The interest rate risk on cash is not considered significant. The interest rate earned on the loan is fixed, as such the Company is not exposed to significant interest rate risk.

b) Foreign currency risk

The Company is exposed to foreign currency risk on fluctuations related to cash, Investment in Profit Sharing Arrangement, and loan, and accounts payable and accrued liabilities, denominated in United States dollars. A 10% fluctuation between the Canadian dollar against the United States dollar would impact profit or loss by approximately $397,000.

c) Price risk

The Company has limited exposure to price risk with respect to equity prices. Equity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on the Company's earnings due to movements in individual equity prices or general movements in the level of the stock market.

Risk Factors

Investing in the common shares of the Company involves risk. Prospective investors should carefully consider the risks described below, together with all of the other information included in this MD&A before making an investment decision. If any of the following risks actually occurs, the business, financial condition or results of operations of the Company could be harmed. In such an event, the trading price of the common shares could decline, and prospective investors may lose part or all of their investment.

Regulatory Risks

While marijuana is legal in many US state jurisdictions, it continues to be a controlled substance under the United States Federal Controlled Substances Act.

The Companies in which the FinCanna has and will continue to invest are directly or indirectly engaged in the medical cannabis industry in Canada and the United States where, although local state law permits such activities, cannabis is federally illegal.

The Company's ability to recruit and retain management, skilled labour and suppliers is crucial to the Company's success.

Limited Operating History and Competition

There is potential that the Company will face intense competition from other companies, some of which can be expected to have longer operating histories and more financial resources and manufacturing and marketing experience than the Company.

The Company was incorporated on November 28, 2016 and has not commenced commercial operations. The Company has neither a history of earnings nor has it paid any dividends and it is unlikely to produce earnings or pay dividends in the immediate or foreseeable future.

Banking and Financial Transactions

The federal illegality of marijuana in the U.S. means that financial transactions involving proceeds generated by marijuana-related conduct can form the basis for prosecution under the money laundering statutes, the unlicensed money transmitter statute and the Bank Secrecy Act.

Third parties with which the Company does business, including banks and other financial intermediaries, may perceive that they are exposed to legal and reputational risk because of the Company's cannabis business activities.

The Company's ability to repatriate returns generated from investments in the U.S. may be limited by anti-money laundering laws.

Risks Inherent in FinCanna's Business

Although the Company's business plan contemplates further investment in additional entities operating within the cannabis sector, the Company currently relies on the performance of a single investee.

Even if its financial resources are sufficient to fund its current operations, there is no guarantee that the Company will be able to achieve its business objectives. The continued development of the Company may require additional financing and there can be no assurance that additional capital or other types of financing will be available if needed or that, if available, the terms of such financing will be favorable to the Company.

The Company has a history of net losses, may incur significant net losses in the future and may not achieve or maintain profitability.

The Canadian Depository for Securities Limited ("CDS") may be considering a policy change with respect to issuers with U.S. cannabis assets. A policy change, if implemented, could affect the Company's current operations and/or disqualify its ability to settle its securities with CDS.

Additional Financing

Companies in which the Company has or will invest may require additional sources of financing other than from the Company. Financing for companies in the cannabis sector is more difficult than other sectors, particularly in the United States, due to the fact that cannabis is still classified as a Schedule I drug and illegal at a federal level. The changing regulatory environment at a state level further complicates financing for companies in this sector and as such there is no guarantee that investee companies will be able to obtain adequate financing to carry out their business objectives.

Change in Laws, Regulations and Guidelines

The current and proposed operations of the companies in which the Company have or will invest are subject to a variety of laws, regulations and guidelines that are broad in scope and subject to evolving interpretations, which could require the Company to incur substantial costs associated with compliance or alter certain aspects of its business plan.

Violations of these laws, or allegations of such violations, could disrupt certain aspects of the Company's business plan and result in a Material Adverse Effect on certain aspects of its planned operations.

Unfavorable Publicity or Consumer Perception

The Company believes the cannabis industry is highly dependent upon consumer perception regarding the safety, efficacy and quality of the cannabis produced. Consumer perception of the Company's products can be significantly influenced by scientific research or findings, regulatory investigations, litigation, media attention and other publicity regarding the consumption of cannabis products.

There can be no assurance that future scientific research, findings, regulatory proceedings, litigation, media attention or other research findings or publicity will be favorable to the medical cannabis market or any particular product, or consistent with earlier publicity.

Currency Fluctuations

For the Nine Months Ended January 31, 2018

The Company's revenues and expenses are expected to be primarily denominated in US dollars, and therefore may be exposed to significant currency exchange fluctuations.

Research and Market Development

Although the Company, itself and through its investments, is committed to researching and developing new markets and products and improving existing products, there can be no assurances that such research and market development activities will prove profitable or that the resulting markets and/or products, if any, will be commercially viable or successfully produced and marketed.

Reliance on Management

The success of the Company is dependent upon the ability, expertise, judgment, discretion and good faith of its senior management. Any loss of the services of such individuals could have a Material Adverse Effect on the Company's business, operating results or financial condition.

Operation Permits and Authorizations

The companies in which the Company has or will invest in may not be able to obtain or maintain the necessary licenses, permits, authorizations or accreditations, or may only be able to do so at great cost, to operate their respective businesses.

Liability, Enforcement, Complaints etc.

The Company, its subsidiaries, or other interests may become party to litigation, mediation and/or arbitration from time to time in the ordinary course of business which could adversely affect its business.

The Company's participation in the cannabis industry may lead to litigation, formal or informal complaints, enforcement actions, and inquiries by various federal, state, or local governmental authorities against these subsidiaries.

Resale of Shares

There can be no assurance that an active and liquid market for the common shares will be maintained and an investor may find it difficult to resell any securities of the Company.

There can be no assurance that the publicly-traded price of the Company's Shares will be high enough to create a positive return for investors.

Price Volatility of Publicly Traded Securities

The market price for the common shares may be volatile and subject to wide fluctuations in response to numerous factors, many of which are beyond the Company's control.

Dividends

The Company has not paid dividends in the past, and the Company does not anticipate paying any dividends in the foreseeable future. Dividends paid by the Company would be subject to tax and, potentially, withholdings.

Intellectual Property

The success of the Company will depend, in part, on the ability of the companies in which the Company invests in to maintain and enhance trade secret protection over various existing and potential proprietary techniques and processes.

Insurance Coverage

The Company will require insurance coverage for a number of risks and there can be no assurance that the amount of coverage will be available or sufficient to cover claims to which the Company may become subject.

Costs of Maintaining a Public Listing

As a public company, there are costs associated with legal, accounting and other expenses related to regulatory compliance.

Litigation

The Company may become party to litigation from time to time in the ordinary course of business which could adversely affect its business.

Operational Risks

The Company and the companies in which it invests may be affected by a number of operational risks and may not be adequately insured for certain risks, including: labour disputes; catastrophic accidents; fires; blockades or other acts of social activism; changes in the regulatory environment; impact of non-compliance with laws and regulations; natural phenomena, such as inclement weather conditions, floods, earthquakes and ground movements.

Potential Conflicts

Certain Directors and Officers of the Company are also directors and officers of other companies, and conflicts of interest may arise between their duties as officers and directors of the Company and as officers and directors of such other companies.
